DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-10, drawn to an apparatus, classified in class 604, subclass 48
- II. Claims 11-12, drawn to method of use, classified in class 128, subclass

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

1. Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the method described in Group II fails to include the apparatus in Group I. The apparatus in Group I comprises of a spiral shape, plurality of perforation, a tube shaped body ends with a soft section, and an introducer, all of which are lacking in the disclosure of Group II. The method in Group II may be used with any device that has a tubular body and not necessarily the apparatus described in Group I.
2. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
3. If the applicants elects Group I, the following Species also should be elected, but if the applicant has elected Group II then he/she may skip the election of Species.

Art Unit: 3763

4. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Species A- Figures 1, 6-8 (Claims 1-8)

Species B-Figures 2-7 (Claims 9-10)

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no pending claims is considered generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

5. During a telephone conversation with Mr. Linzy on 5-23-02 a provisional election was made with out traverse to prosecute the invention a device for draining of the urine, claims 1-8. Applicant in replying to this Office action must make affirmation of this election. Claims 9-12 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

a. Claim 1 recites the limitation "the drainage of the urine bladder" in line 1, "the body's" in line 1, " a tube-shaped body" inline 6, "the urethra" in line 8, "the purpose" inline 9, "the exertion" in line 10, "the distance" in line 13, and "the point" in line 13. There is insufficient antecedent basis for these limitations in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3763

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless —

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1-6 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by U.S Patent No.5176664 to Weisman.

Weisman discloses female voiding assist device and method. This device is in a tube-shaped and is comprised in such a manner so as to assume a first contracted position and being taken up within the bladder, and a thread extended between at least the bladder and an opening of the urethra is connected with a first end of the tube shaped body for the purpose of extending the tube-shaped body from the 1st position to the 2nd position up on the extension of pulling force upon the thread. The tube shaped body is a spiral shaped or folded in the 1st position with a plurality of perforations, and it is made out of flexible material.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S Patent No.5176664 to Weisman , and further in view of U.S Patent No.6368340 to Malecki et al.

As mentioned above Weisman discloses female voiding assist device and method. Weisman however, does not teach a soft section on the first end of the catheter.

Art Unit: 3763

Malecki teaches a clap assembly and method of use. Malecki teaches a soft section on the end of the catheter.

Therefore, it would have been to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have combined these two teachings, because according to Malecki the soft tip reduces the risk of injury to the body lumen. (Col.11, lines 7-10).
